Career Opportunities at LeBLANC Group

LeBLANC Group has established its worldwide reputation as a global provider of wireless network infrastructure solutions and industry leader since 1962. We offer a wide range of turnkey solutions for wireless network infrastructure to meet the evolving needs of cellular network operators including wireless construction, telecommunication towers supply and wireless professional services.

We invite highly motivated professionals to be part of our dynamic team to spearhead our business. Join us now and you can expect a challenging career that brings both personal satisfaction and good career advancement. Training and guidance will be given to successful engineer to gain professional engineer status.

1. Civil Engineers (Graduate / Engineering Assistant) (2 vacancies)

Responsibilities

Assisting the Design engineer in detailed design calculations of telecommunication structures, lattice towers, steel and camouflaged monopole. Assisting the Design Engineers in preparing the final design report of tower and foundation, check drawings and bill of material prepared by engineering team members. Assisting the Design engineers in determining the structural integrity assessment of existing lattice towers to cater for system expansion by the telecommunication provider. Assisting the Design Engineers in detailed design for strengthening of towers and foundations to cater for new antenna loadings. These works involve inspection and site measure of existing structures if built by others prior to assessment. Assisting sales department in preparation of the quotation and tender submission with the preliminary design and estimated quantities.

Requirements

Degree/Diploma in Civil / Structural Engineering. Interested in foundation and geotechnical engineering. Proficient in using windows, office software, Autocad, STAADPro, MS Tower, etc. Experience in telecommunication industries is an added advantage. Knowledge of Excel programming is a must. Fresh graduates are encouraged to apply.

Interested applications are invited to email your complete resume together with photograph to career@leblanc.com.my

Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Website: http://www.leblanc.com.my

For more info, please click HERE.